"What a privilege to uncover the secrets of Nature's precious gifts! A revolutionary, new class of nutrition has been born - we simply call it "nano's". To make them, we put to work the most powerful, hard-working, beneficial probiotic bacteria to "nanize" (i.e. break down into ultra-small, unusually easy-to-absorb particles) the very best botanicals. In this formula, we "nanized" our key ingredient, quantum-state quality African-grown white willow bark (of pain relief fame and healthy inflammatory balance), with South American cat's claw (also of pain relief fame, especially for joints and muscles) and their botanical synergists – to deliver another one of our most incredible products yet.

Recently, we saw a 48-year old woman who had unbearable itching and burning of the feet, which had been occurring on and off for several weeks. Within a short while of taking the first dose of Inflammacidin™, she had immediate relief. After a few days, the problem completely cleared. In another case, a 37-year old female athlete had injured her elbow which was quite painful and tender. Other products had given her no relief. After taking Inflammacidin™, she was amazed to find that the pain and swelling immediately began to clear. She was then able to sleep through the night – which allowed her body's regenerative processes to kick into full gear. We continue to be amazed at the immediate action of "nanized" nutrition. Once again, this is "nutrition that really works!"
